

HUNTLEY

DESIGN BUILD

Good afternoon...I wanted to let everyone know that we will complete the framing of the house this week and will begin moving forward with windows and exterior trim plus interior rough ins next week...

Right now it looks like we should be complete in July or early August...The plan will be to begin marketing the house for sale in the next month or so to hopefully have it sold and closed shortly after completion...if all goes as planned...

Once we get to drywall we will list it for sale...We have had great participation and donations and we are pressing for more each and every day...

The house that was under construction during the ground breaking was listed in December, went under contract in 2 weeks and was closed in February...Salesprice was $749,900...
